Cuticura
REMEDIES
Have achieved the most noted Success of any Medicines of Modern Times
Messrs Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of CUTICURA CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP, for the speedy permanent and economical cure of Humors of the Blood Skin, and Scalp They are however, astonished at their universal success for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them
They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction on that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by the CUTICURA REMEDIES

SALT RHEUM
Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.
LAW OFFICE OF CHAS HOUGHTON
17 Congress Street Boston Feb 28th 1878.
Messrs WEEKS & POTTER Gentlemen—I feel it a duty to inform you and through you all who are interested to know it that a most disagreeable and obstinate case of Salt Rheum or Eczema which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time—about ten (10) years—covering the greater portion of the patient's body and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab and to which all the known methods of treating such disease had been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days use of proper application of CUTICURA
I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case
Very truly yours
CHAS HOUGHTON

LIVER COMPLAINT
And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 Pounds on One Bottle.
Gentlemen —I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia with running sores on the side of my neck for ten years Doctors did me no good I have been spending for eight years and it did no good Everything I ate distressed me I got reduced from ... to 132 pounds At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off and on one bottle I gained five and one half pounds. It is doing the business and I am going for it strong
Yours truly,
JOHN H ROY,
41 WABASH AVE , CHICAGO Ill, Nov 15, 1878

NOTE —CUTICURA is admirably assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness or when the virus of Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world

CUTICURA SOAP is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to CUTICURA in the treatment of all external ailments For chapped hands, rough skin and tan sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable, as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing and healing before the public
These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents, large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1 RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents, 3 cakes, 75 cents.

A Republican State Convention
WILL BE HELD IN GRANITE HALL, AUGUSTA,
Wednesday, June 23, 1880
At 11 o'clock A. M.,
for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor to be supported at the September election and two candidates for Electors of President and Vice President of the United States and to transact any other business that may properly come before the Convention
The basis of representation will be as follows Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for every seventy five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1879 an additional delegate and a fraction of forty votes in excess of seventy five will be accorded a delegate
The State Committee will be in session in the ante room of the Hall at 9 o clock on the morning of the Convention, to receive the credentials of delegates
For the first time in the history of Maine the attempt was made in 1879 to deprive the people of the right to choose their own officers, and to corruptly continue in power those whom the people had rejected The authors, abettors and accomplices in this crime against free government are now seeking to come before the people under some new party name—availing themselves of an alias the common resort of those who seek to escape the responsibility and punishment of their crimes.
Against these men, under whatever name they may appear all those citizens who condemn the nefarious plot to destroy the rights of suffrage are invited to unite without regard to past party affiliations, to preserve honest Government for the honest people of Maine
By order of the Republican State Committee.

THE SUFFERING CONDUCTOR.
[From the Albany Argus]
There is no greater display of imbecility in any insane asylum than on most railroad trains. What wonder, then that the conductor occasionally loses all his patience and answers rather curtly Only the other day an old lady on her way to Montreal, with a dozen bandboxes and bundles would frantically gather them up every time a train stopped at a side station, and rush for the conductor and ask if that was Montreal, or if she had to change cars, and every time was told "No, no, no; you've got 200 miles to go yet, keep your seat " The conductor was growing livid over this continual vexation, and would probably have jumped the train and fled in terror but that a junction was reached where that coach was set off and another conductor took his turn at the rack of torture

A conductor who leaves the city in the morning and returns in the evening got off at a small station not far out the other evening on his return trip He was approached by a grim visaged individual who addressed him in a tone that showed he was very much provoked Say did you know ... left me this morning The conductor responded pleasantly No I did not and where were you? THE STATE CONVENTIONS AND THE RESULT.

The Fusionists were here yesterday. It is no disguising the fact that both conventions were largely attended, both by delegates and "whoopers-up." But mark this one thing—those delegates have not the people behind them. In short, Bangor yesterday entertained the Fusion party of Maine. The party had been rooted out and dragged here by free excursions on steamboats and dead-head tickets on railroads. The parties were placed upon the defensive. Charged with a great crime against the State, the managers have been bringing to bear all their forces to give the steal a rousing endorsement. This was foreshadowed at the outset in calling upon Mr. Foster to preside. His speech was a defence of his course as a member of the Executive Council. Fogg's speech was also a defence. Sawyer's speech was a defence. This foreshadows the style of the campaign on the part of the Fusionists. On every platform from which they speak they will be confronted with the enormity of their crimes, and their efforts will be to explain and apologize therfor. They have planted themselves squarely on the State steal, and on that issue the Republicans will be prepared to meet them.

All the other candidates had been withdrawn, and Gen. Plaisted was nominated by acclamation. In his speech of acceptance he had to explain away his Republicanism, for fear that the Democrats should not endorse his nomination. Now hated as a military man, he is no more entitled to public favor for that than the humblest soldier in his regiment. The brilliancy of his record as a warror has never been brought to public notice except by his own pen, and of this we speak elsewhere. As a politician he came into the Republican party when there was promise of promotion to office, and left it when the people decided that they wanted him no longer in that capacity. He has been a mere weather-cock, blown about by every wind of doctrine, and if he ever had any convictions as to political duty, he never had the courage to stand by them. He possesses just the elements for a Greenback leader, as there is no phase of their political heresy which he would not willingly endorse for the sake of placing himself in official position.

The Democratic convention, in endorsing the nomination of Plaisted, eat their little plate of crow, without a murmur. Several of the delegates are indignant, but in the main they swallow the General, boots, spurs and all. They dine upon the tough crow that has been placed upon their plates, and call it tender chicken. Even the stalwart Bion Bradbury comes forward and moves to "join drives" with the Greenbackers this year, for the purpose of beating the Republicans, remarking that they did not intend thereby to give up their organization or the principles of their party. But Mr. Bradbury should remember that he cannot take live coals in his bosom without being burned. Himself and the chairman, Gen. Anderson, had the convention at their beck and call, and could have brought it to a manly declaration, of principles and placed a candidate thereon entitled to public respect, though he would have failed of an election. That would have left the party intact. But the vision of anticipated success stifled their principles, and yesterday, at City Hall, the Democratic party of Maine was dissolved, by the deliberate choice of its leaders, never again to be raised to life. It failed to pass a single resolution, and died in ignominy, wrangling over a proposition to strike down the Maine liquor law, which would have passed had it not been withdrawn.

The lesson of these conventions to the Republicans of Maine is plain. There will be no more triangular fights; the enemy have united their forces and are preparing for a last desperate struggle to wrest the State from Republican control; their union is so close that fusion, or melting together, is the only term to express it. Every element of discontent and opposition has united; the old hatreds of the Democracy, and the later hostilities of disappointed office-seekers, have clasped hands, and are all led and inspired by the blind wrath of the deluded, detected, and disgraced conspirators, who so nearly stole a State Government from the people of Maine.

The Republicans must accept the issue, and meet these Fusionists shoulder to shoulder. They must not trust anything to chance; the issue cannot be for a moment doubtful, with intelligence and honesty on the one side, and ignorance and fraud on the other; but we must remember that rats fight hardest when driven into a corner.

TO THE RECORD.

(From the Farmington Chronicle.)

The citizens of Farmington were, on Saturday evening, afforded an opportunity to witness an exhibition of the qualifications of ex-Councillor Fogg to represent their interests in Congress, and hear his reasons for asking their aid in substituting himself for their present able representative. The lugubrious countenances of the little audience while the famous "count outer" tried to explain away some of the glaring frauds, with which he is closely associated in people's minds, which affected distant parts of the State, with never a word for those perpetrated on towns in this county in which his audience was directly interested, coupled with the death-like stillness which has since prevailed touching this great moral show, is deeply significant of the effect produced.

The terrible array of facts relating to the malfeasance of this gentleman and his associates during their brief authority, will, in due time, be plainly set before the people, and I propose at this time to notice but one of his Saturday night statements—that in relation to the shipbuilding interests of the district he seeks to represent in the councils of the nation.

In his attack upon Mr. Frye for voting in Congress to protect the working men of this country from the pauper labor and wages of Europe, Fogg said: "As the result of these votes not a blow has been struck in the shipyards of Bath, Camden and Thomaston, for ten years." A more complete and deliberate falsification of facts was never before made in a public meeting.

An official statement of the record at the custom house in Bath, which I have procured and inclosed for the inspection of yourself and others, shows that during these ten years more than TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-THREE THOUSAND tonnage of vessels, was built in this district, requiring a distribution of more than TEN AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

The imagination of Jules Verne could not conceive a more pitiable exhibition of ignorance; or, worse, a more despicable exhibition of lying than this ambitious politician's attempt to belittle and degrade the interests of a people.

The followers of the ex-Councillor in this county can but regret their lack of better political capital than is illustrated above, with which to secure the election of their leader; nor can they take great pride in the estimate he has placed on their intelligence.

WORDS OF GREAT MEN.

They are "like apples of gold in pictures of silver." The Kennebec Journal grinds out a few of the sayings of the great men in the ranks of the Fusion party:

"Let us count the votes of the people; and we care not who cast them."—The Seven Tabulators.

"Honesty is the best policy."—Mose Harriman.

"I think I shall give that thousand dollars to some charitable object."—T. B. Swan.

"I thought about a thousand dollars apiece would buy Swan and Harriman."—J. O. White.

"I never saw anything take the starch out of a man as the Auburn Convention took it out of Uncle Solon Chase. He looked like a paper collar that had been worn three weeks and then soaked a week in a canal."—Sewell Goff.

"Be modest and gentlemanly; but —— that —— —— high toned Lewiston Gazette."—"Hon." F. M. Fogg.

"I shall oppose jineing drives—in a born."—Solon Chase.

"I confess that my rule seemed to invariably count in Democrats, and count out Republicans; but you know that it is a poor rule that won't work both ways."—Doctor Garcelon.

"He done it."—Doctor Garcelon and Council.

BOOK NOTICE.

LIFE AND PUBLIC SERVICES OF GENERAL PLAISTED.

An Autobiography.

We have before us a little pamphlet bearing the above title, evidently intended for general circulation, free to all, without money and without price; it would hardly demand a notice were it not for the peculiar circumstances under which it is issued. The first page is devoted to a sketch of the author's illustrious ancestry; shows that the General has descended for at least eight generations from a race of fighters; then follows some dozen pages of the General's own military record, with which those who have read the Adjutant General's report, are already familiar, and as the General has by his course yesterday placed that so far behind him, it would have seemed more judicious to have left it out altogether, as certain to revive unpleasant memories in the minds of a large portion of those who must be his active supporters in order to give him the least chance of success. Then follows a sketch of his services as Attorney General, a still more injudicious record to publish, as can be seen from the fact that were the doors of the State Prison thrown open it would add some hundreds to his supporters at the polls next September.

Next comes his services as a member of Congress—our readers will bear in mind he was then a Republican—which may account for the fact that he touches upon them so lightly—the chief noticeable fact in which is that he "took great interest in the ventilation of the House of Representatives," the mephitic condition of which he does not appear to have inhaled by any expenditure of breath in speech-making, which abstinence on his part no doubt added as much to the comfort of his colleagues as did his improvements in ventilation. General Plaisted was nominated in 1875 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Hon. Samuel F. Hersey, as he was yesterday to fill out the unexpired term of the Hon. Joseph L. Smith.

A paragraph is devoted to his Digest, a work for which he must be admirably adapted, as he surely needs the digestion of an ostrich after his long training in radical Republicanism to swallow and assimilate at the same time the communism of Fogg, the hard money theories of Bradbury, and the rank disloyalty and copperheadism of Sanborn.

His account of his financial writings does not here demand an extended notice, as Bangor readers were formerly treated to them ad nauseam in the Bangor Commercial; when General Plaisted was, nominally at least, a member of the Republican party, the financial question will not be a prominent one in the coming campaign, and a reiteration of the General's views seem to be given here rather as a proof of sympathy with the exploded heresies of the past rather than as a promise of action in the future.

In his statement of his "recent labors," the General strangely omits to notice his superhuman efforts in behalf of reform in the Bangor Custom House; the failure of which was the last straw that broke the camel's back. This turned the General's wavering footsteps towards Democracy, destroyed his faith in human nature, and convinced him that the Republican party had fulfilled its mission.

Now come extracts from his speeches. Here the General is merciful. He might have given them entire, and refrained; we also will refrain, knowing that it will be a partial compensation for his loss, to think that his future speeches will be delivered to other audiences, and that the deep longing for the never coming peroration will swell in other breasts than others.

Various extracts from now defunct Greenback papers come next in order, selected with great care from the General's copious scrap book, and all setting forth his fitness for a Greenback nominee. Strange to say there is nothing commending his peculiar fitness for Democratic endorsement, an omission which will doubtless be remedied if the General ever has the chance to be again a candidate for public office.

The volume ends as it began with a military sketch; letters are quoted from Gen'ls Torry and Otis in which they pay well merited tributes to the gallant old 11th Maine, but by a strange oversight, of the compiler all mention of its Colonel is omitted; we must regret this as it detracts from the interest somewhat when viewed in the light of a campaign boom for the Democratic candidate of to-day; but for further information on this subject we must refer our readers to Lieut. Col. Hill and the officers and men of the 11th Regt. an opportunity for this will be afforded at the next annual reunion of that gallant corps where the general will probably take the same prominent part as in the preceding ones.

This valuable work was delivered free of cost before the nomination; it is now for sale at the low price of ten cents, and may probably be obtained on receipt of that sum, at the New Era publishing office, Portland, Me., or of Genl. Harris M. Plaisted, Bangor, Me.

GIRLS ON AN EXCURSION. The dinner provided for the Vassar College girls during their Friday excursion to West Point was evidently not arranged by a stylish chef, but it was very sensible. There was no beginning with collicky clams and no thin, clear soup appeared. School girls usually hate soup which is the reason why they are given so much of it. The dinner began with sturdy roast beef, and there was no fish. But they had broaded veal cutlets and mashed potatoes, both school-girl favorites. Girls like bread, so they were given two kinds—French and Vienna; and oh, delight of childhood! the provider added loaf cake, which is bread sweetened and having dried fruit, especially raisins in it. Three kinds of bread and breaded cutlets! With ice cream, strawberries and cake, the girls were happy. Pickles were on the table for a moment, but soon disappeared. At last accounts the ice cream and pickle delegations had agreed on a unit rule.—N. Y. Herald.

Card to the Public.

Feeling a deep interest in the Bangor Band and desiring to see them uniformed in a style their playing deserves, I have, as the Band's request, consented to solicit subscriptions for that object, trusting that with your generous aid, and what funds the Band have in hand, they may possess the new uniform by the 20th of June. The cost of the uniforms, together with the necessary running expenses of the Band, will be more than a thousand dollars. Therefore I most respectfully ask you to be as liberal as possible, and in gratitude for assistance the Band will give a series of open air concerts, which shall excel any they have presented in the past.

Sincerely, M. H. ANDREWS, Leader Bangor Band.

CHICAGO!

SENATOR CAMERON TO REMAIN CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE.

Fair Promises.

New York Sustains the Unit Rule.

Just Before The Battle.

Edmunds Not Withdrawn.

CHICAGO, June 1 The National Committee have appointed committee of conference to arrange a compromise between the Grant and anti Grant factions and pending their report the committee adjourned till 2 30

Thirty anti Grant members of the National Committee this morning agreed to depose Cameron from the chairmanship if he continued to decline to entertain their motions or refuse to abide by the decision of the majority

BOSTON June 1 A Journal special says that William C Cooper has been elected Chairman of the National Committee in place of Don Cameron Cooper is a lawyer from Mount Vernon and is much respected

CHICAGO June 1 It is reported that Conkling, Logan and Cameron met the conference committee and conceded every thing the anti Grant men demand W L Chandler had been selected by the opposition to take Cameron's place.

The Convention of the National Union Veteran Clubs to day was largely attended, 26 States being represented General Stewart L Woodford was elected chairman A resolution approving the nomination of Gen Grant provoked great confusion, in which and on viva voce voting which followed the audience joined

Capt Boutelle of Maine, Congressman Burrows and others opposed the Grant resolution After a long discussion there was a close vote, which the chairman decided in favor of the resolution

CHICAGO June 1 The report that Senator Edmunds had written to a Vermont delegate withdrawing as a Presidential candidate and urging the Vermont delegation to support Grant is most emphatically denied A delegate received a letter from Edmunds but it contains no recommendation except that the delegation combine on a man most likely if nominated to carry the 5 or 6 debatable states

The National Committee reconvened at 2 30 and adjourned after two hours session A member states that the conclusions reached were that Cameron should remain chairman of the committee that the regular delegations from Louisiana, Kansas, Utah and Illinois be admitted to the temporary organization that the contests in those States be submitted to the Committee on Credentials and that the unit rule be enforced or not at the pleasure of the convention, that Conkling, Logan and Cameron have pledged themselves in no way to interfere in regard to the action of the convention respecting the unit rule The committee decided to distribute tickets at 9 30 o'clock to-morrow The New York delegation held a secret caucus on the question of standing by the resolution of the Albany convention The motion to sustain the unit rule was passed 45 to 23

Since the adjournment of the National Committee there has been an apparent lull in political excitement to-night being much quieter than last night, although the crowd in the hotel corridors is greater than ever New delegates are seen stirring about a majority being engaged in secret caucuses, where managers for the different candidates are trying to figure up their strength in the convention to-morrow, and devising means to strengthen and solidify them Throughout the day rumors were current that a protest against the casting of the Pennsylvania vote solid for Grant, similar to that signed by a part of the New York delegation was out [illegible] circulated and receiving no signatures

The Pennsylvania delegates were questioned in reference to the rule and professed the ignorance of any such protest in the circles of delegation However several votes were taken which were somewhat an indication of the feeling of the delegation A motion favoring the casting of the State vote as a unit was carried with 21 dissenting votes

Twenty four of the Pennsylvania delegates and one at large have issued a manifesto declaring they will vote against the nomination of Grant Protesting New York delegates are receiving numerous telegrams from constituents endorsing their action and urging firmness The anti Grant men say that until rule is now beaten even if a vote is taken by States, for many of the States decided to divide against it

The opponents of Grant claim that an individual vote would make a majority against it of over 100 to offset the break in New York and Pennsylvania The Grant managers are canvassing among the southern delegates

The Blaine delegates held a caucus this evening They claim 300 on the first ballot with a probability of subsequent gains Ex Secretary Boutwell admitted to a reporter to-night that his count left Grant 40 to 50 short of a majority

ILLINOIS

A Small Convention

SPRINGFIELD June 1 The State Convention of Prohibitionists was called to meet here to-day There are only four delegates in the city and the convention will probably adjourn to another date.

GREENBACK STATE CONVENTION.

The Greenback State Convention met at Norombega Hall, yesterday forenoon, at 11 o'clock, and was called to order by E H Gove, of Biddeford, chairman of the State Committee. He read the call for the convention, and called upon Rev William F Eaton of Cape Elizabeth who offered prayer

Mr Gove said we have our fingers again on the public pulse, and as we look over this vast convention we ask ourselves how stand the people? They are with us and wait but for an opportunity to show it I now have the honor and pleasure of introducing the gentleman selected by your State Committee as temporary chairman—a gentleman whose fellow citizens have often called him to fill high and responsible offices, the Hon John B Foster, of Bangor

Mr Foster said

I thank you, fellow citizens for this cordial reception It is something different from what I have been accustomed to I thank you for calling me to preside over your deliberations

The scene before me is one of true grandeur. To look upon such a gathering of the solid men of Maine, and behold in their faces the evidence of calm determination, inspires me with hope It tells me that they mean to accomplish some good results You represent a party of progressive ideas, and progressive measures, a party which believes in a government of the people, by the people and for the people, a party which has sworn opposition to oppression of every kind You have seen the despotism of the money power You have witnessed the despotism of rings, and you have it in your minds to overthrow it As I have said, you have seen it in the despotism of the money powers and in the rings, and you have it in your minds to go on till the despotism which rules the State of Maine is dethroned You have met here to perform a very responsible duty You are called upon to select a standard bearer, and I doubt not but that you will select some one who represents the party idea and in whom the people have confidence With such a one as our standard bearer victory is sure

Mr Foster on taking the chair, was greeted with three cheers

On motion of Mr Gushee, of Appleton, the temporary organization was made permanent

Mr Andrews declined serving on the committee on resolutions, and nominated D H Thing, of Mt Vernon, in his place. Mr Thing declined to serve, and Mr. Andrews finally consented to stand.

John O Robinson, of Thomaston, was first nominated on the committee on resolutions, but declined in favor of Oliver Otis, of Rockland.

Mr Robinson, of Bangor, from the committee on credentials, reported the presence of 1653 delegates. If the number were disputed, every name was being entered in a book, and the book could be examined at any time

Loud calls were made for the Hon F M Fogg, who appeared, and was received with great enthusiasm.

Mr Fogg said

Fellow Citizens A member of the Executive Council of 1879, needs no introduction (Three cheers more were here given) Fellow citizens, never was I so diffident about appearing before an audience as to-day, for I realize how much depends upon the success of our party. A few months ago and it seemed that liberty in the old Pine Tree State had been overthrown, but as I look to-day in the faces of these 2,000 earnest men here who are the representatives of 75,000 thoughtful voters at home, you are resolved to save the old Pine Tree State from the hands of a rebel legislature. You will snatch the rule of the State from the hands of these men and will show that the State is true to its motto "Dirigo" You will snatch the old flags in the Capitol from the men who, when the first great rebellion was in progress, stayed at home and sent substitutes. You are resolved to send your representatives back to Augusta by such a majority next year that they will not be welcomed to the embrace of a Gatling gun. The fight is not to be over the financial question, it is not over the greenback, it is imperialism against democracy. (Applause) Remember that the men who to-day are the tools of imperialism, James G. Blaine is covered from head to foot with investigations, with Credit Mobilier paper, with Little Rock stock, years with whiskey fraud on the top. U. S. G[illegible] is covered with the frauds of his former administrations, and John Sherman is the tool of the money power. I have said enough on this point but I may say something in regard to the count-out Governor Garcelon and his Council—your Governor and Council—did but what they were obliged to. We counted out more Democratic and Republican towns than we did Greenback, and the only reason why we did not lose more seats was owing to the infamous gerrymandering of the Republicans. We did but follow the example of the Republicans. Mr. Fogg here repeated his spread eagle speech, which has become too familiar to be repeated here.

Mr. Patten, of Bangor said, I have the honor to introduce to you the Governor of Maine A Governor alive to his feet

Mr J D Lamson then came forward, and blushed at the title He took the chair while Mr Foster addressed the assembly

Mr Foster said

It is to my friends that I owe something, to my enemies nothing I will make no preliminary remarks, but as a member of the Executive Council of 1879, I have been asked to make an explanation. I was elected in 1878 as a member of the Council I thought the position an honorable one, I know that it was a responsible one Before taking my seat I took an oath to support the Constitution, and I think I understand something what an oath means. I did not swear to support the Democratic party, the Greenback party, the Fusion party or the Republican party, but I did swear to support the Constitution. One of the duties of the Governor and Council was that of counting the votes We were told that frauds had been committed. We received affidavits from all over the States telling us of these frauds, and on the other side the papers of the State commenced their raid on the Governor and Council charging us with having entered into a conspiracy to defeat the will of the people In the midst of this confusion what could we do? What guide could we follow? Where find the safe course? I had taken an oath to support the Constitution and I did my best to do it and would do it again, and could do no different

I became satisfied that the Governor and Council were a body empowered by law to make an examination of the legal returns We were not a returning board but we were the judges of what was illegal The decision of the court up to that time I had studied, as well as the Constitution itself We had no equity power whatever. I studied the precedents and found reasons assigned in some cases and not in others I found that the Supreme Court in 1877 had said that the Governor and Council should not only on legal returns The Constitution was the guide that I followed It was our law, we had no other, it is unchangable I took as my late colleague here will witness, this position and I will now read the following paper that I then prepared—which I have here written on official paper—and this paper I have received since that man Davis has been in the chair

Mr Foster produced an original paper drawn up by him before the count out, which he said was the basis of his action in the business The main point of that basis was that the Governor and Council in relation to the proof upon which they are authorized to act are confined to legal returns duly transmitted, except in special cases where enlarged powers have been conferred by statute They then decided to confine themselves strictly to legal returns and that a legal return must be one that is made out in conformity with the law That it is not within the scope of the Governor and Council to investigate in regard to bribery or other irregularities in the election

Do you see anything that resembles conspiracy in that? (No—no) I read it to many Republicans, and I never found but one man that doubted that it was a correct standpoint, and that man was (Cries of Blaine—Blaine) but this is not a good place to call names

I cite a few cases There is the case of the four cities the majority of the select men did not sign There is a decision to sustain the position of the Republicans but the Supreme Court have a nice way of getting out of it They say that a majority of a majority is a majority of the whole [Laughter] It did not occur to me that it was so but if true ought I to be hung for that mistake? I do not see myself up against the Supreme Court but I have read constitutional law, and I read here that the selectmen shall sign I ask you to take the decision and my statement and judge between us I do not believe that the decision was anything but a foolish one, and can not stand with the plain people Take the case of the city of Portland the largest city of the State that the Governor and Council disfranchised That was terrible as I told a man down South The constitution requires that the names of every man voted for must be recorded with the vote against it But it is said what is its spirit? Senator Hamlin said here on this floor that Jesus Christ was crucified by the form of law. But it was one question to solve what is a legal return The court says that perhaps, Scattering, [illegible] is a man, and he voted for I can't see how that The court undertook to make a hat man It said to Scattering 'be a man, and lo! Scattering is a man Whatever may be my claim of hit money, I don't believe in that men I was in the Senate when we were asked to throw out almost all the vote of the city of Ellsworth One of the reasons for it was that the school house where the meeting was called to be held was under going repair , and the people went into another ward to vote I came home and asked Judge Cutting if they should be counted out He said They had no more right to go into another ward to vote, than the people of Bangor would to go over to Brewer to vote." That decided me, but when I went down this year and asked to talk confidentially with a judge he said he had nothing to say For these things what have I had to suffer? Standing there under the sanctity of an oath, what could I do? The rule that had been applied to one can be applied to the other What I have had to endure no man knows and no man will ever know I recall one scene when in this hall an indignation meeting was held, when not content with denouncing the Governor and Council as a whole, the eloquent man who represents this district, after saying that the Governor and Council were moral lepers, covered with sores from head to foot, and told all to shun them, added, "and one of them lives here." I have been reading that book called a "Fool's Errand," and some of the pictures it gives of ostracism are terrible, but taking out the actual murders, and they were nothing to this—to what I have been called upon to endure It is no pleasure for me to recall them I would rather say with the sainted man of old when his enemies stoned him, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do"

The Committee on resolutions reported the following series through the chairman, Solon Chase

Resolved, That all currency whether metalic or paper, necessary for the use and convenience of the people, should be issued and its volume controlled by the Government, and not by or through the banking corporations of the country, and when so issued should be a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private.

Resolved, That that portion of the interest bearing debt of the United States which shall become redeemable in the year 1881, or prior thereto, being in amount $782,000 000, should not be refunded beyond the power of the Government to call in said obligations and pay them at any time, but should be paid as rapidly as possible, and according to contract To enable the Government to meet these obligations the mints of the United States be operated to their full capacity in the coinage of standard silver dollars, and such other coinage as the business interests of the country may require.

Resolved, That imprisonment for debt be abolished.

Resolved, That we favor such a change in the manner of voting as shall secure to every citizen the free exercise of the right of suffrage.

Mr. Mahan of Ellsworth, proposed another resolution providing that the widows and orphans of soldiers be taken care of. He was asked to put his ideas into writing

Mr. Plaisted of Lincoln, said that as the resolutions were somewhat crude, he moved they be laid aside until afternoon.

D. H Thing, of Vernon, moved that a plank be put in the platform demanding an income tax. The motion was not seconded. Mr. Thing then moved that the resolutions be recommitted to the Committee on Resolutions. Put and carried. Several motions to adjourn came from various parts of the house. The chairman put the motion and it was lost.

B H. Mace, Esq , of Bangor, was then introduced, and said he should present the name of one as a standard bearer who has remarkable natural ability, supplemented by a fine education, and who above all is an honest man He has military as well as civil qualifications. In view of the times upon which we have fallen, these qualities should not disqualify him as a candidate for Governor. He then gave a history of his candidate's civil and military career He had fought fifty-nine battles, and won in every conflict He is a man who, when he sees and knows that he is elected will step forward and maintain his position, and he has courage to make use of force if necessary He then presented the name of Gen. Harris M Plaisted of Bangor, as candidate for the office of Governor

On motion of Dr Dyer of Farmington, the nomination of Gen Plaisted was made by acclamation and being declared the nominee, the announcement was received with tumultuous applause

A committee of three, headed by J M Todd, was appointed to wait upon Gen Plaisted inform him of the nomination, and request his presence at the convention

Mr Fogg moved that the delegates to Chicago present as a candidate for the Presidency, the name of Solon Chase

Fogg's motion was carried and the convention adjourned to afternoon

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On reassembling in the afternoon, impromptu speeches were called for

D H Thing of Mount Vernon said, "the expression of your faces when you made the nomination to-day was like to that which was depicted on the faces of the soldiers of the old Maine 11th when they went into battle under Gen Plaisted To-day the farmer and the mechanic have clasped hands, the blacksmith has left his shop and the farmer his farm, and here to-day hands have been clasped and the order is the same as that once given by General Plaisted, but men to the rear. We have been coming up year after year to respond to the cry of beat 'em again,' and we beat the enemy and were beaten in turn

General Plaisted then made his appearance and while the band was playing "Hail to Chief, he was introduced to the audience

GENERAL PLAISTED said Mr Chairman and Fellow Greenbackers, I understand that this a convention—a Greenback Convention of the State of Maine I think I have read or heard it said that the Greenback party of the State of Maine is dead, if so it is a lively corpse I have been informed that you have placed me in nomination by unanimous vote, and I can truly say that I am in no way responsible except that the plain people of the State in this hall to-day choose to nominate me by the ballot, and after a fair contest open to all I understand that it was not by ballot I do not know that I am bound by the contract, for I believe in the ballot, and that every man has the right to express by ballot his choice But gentlemen I will waive that if you will agree to elect me by ballot I did not seek this nomination because I did not feel equal to the demands of the campaign, with the wear and tear that accompanied it Twenty years of my life have been passed in civil and military positions that have broken in upon my domestic quiet, and I would that I might rest But gentlemen this nomination has come to me in a way that makes it my duty to accept it and I do so because I believe that I stand fully in accord with the Greenback party, and I feel that if elected I have only to follow my own convictions of right in order to represent you; I was not quick to leave the old Republican party that I had been with in times of war, and in times of peace alike, and I left it only when I became convinced that it was pledged to the advocating of legislation in the interest of the few and against the many I am utterly opposed to the system that would trim the currency of the country to a coin basis, a system that will end but in forcing the nose of the people to the grindstone Then the system of National banks is to be considered I do not blame the bond holders, they are but looking after their own interest and in a nis selfish I stand, however, on the platform of Thomas Jefferson, equal privileges, no special privileges equal rights for all It is not the use, but the abuse of Government that we would abolish But gentlemen, I did not come here to make a speech I have been too busy with other and exhaustive labors but there are many things said about me. They even say that I am not a Greenbacker, that I would vote for Grant, I believe, and I have the best of reasons for thinking that he is personally honest I honor him for what he has done Almost the last words that I said to him was this If I could believe that any one man was essential to the salvation of the nation you might well be said to have saved the country But is that any reason why I should vote for him? No not when it nominated he would be nominated at the bidding of a Senatorial ring When a man says that I would vote for Grant he lies at hap hazard when he says that he believes that I would? I pity him "for as a man thinketh so is he" I could not vote for General Grant Again it is said that I may vote for Mr Blaine I like Mr Blaine, and my personal relations with him have always been pleasant and four years ago I was to him as President of the United States To day standing where he does Mr Blaine would not expect my vote, and if he expected it he would not get it The man who would vote for either must have little faith in man I look upon a nomination as a sacred trust or something in the nature of a public trust When we become so demoralized that we do not respect a public trust and do not regard it as something sacred we are near the fall of a great people The civil service must be reformed The Senate a secret body has the power of confirmation, and of rejection, it must not have the power of appointment also

This matter has become one of concern to us all and when men reach that point think you that we will yield it? Fellow citizens, I say to you hold fast to your colors

Solon Chase again read the resolutions presented, with the following additional resolutions

Resolved The public lands should be reserved for the use of actual settlers. We are in favor of a graduated tax on incomes of more than $1 000 per annum We demand that this government should recognize the claim of no creditor is better than that of the soldier of the late rebellion, and demanded the passage of a law to equalize bounties

Resolved, That in Gen Harris M Plaisted we recognize an eminently pure statesman a gallant soldier, and an honest man, and we invite all friends of good government to join with us in electing him to the Governorship of Maine

The resolutions were adopted

The convention was then addressed by J E. Emerson of Beaver, Pa , who made a spread-eagle speech, the principal point of which was that he was a native of Maine and had been a Greenbacker since 1861

Prince A Sawyer, Esq , was call-d for, and came forward He did not expect to meet a reception of this kind You have a right to return with the satisfied conscience that duty has been nobly performed His name had been mentioned as a candidate, but he wished to say that he was and is a Plaisted man Your standard bearer formerly was a standard bearer against the rebel foe He will be attacked, but he can repulse his enemies. As you return to your homes go with the determination to leave no stone unturned to secure the triumph of the cause you represent

Here a crazy man in the front of the gallery, commenced to make a red hot speech, swinging his arms about in the wildest possible manner This caused considerable merriment, but he was at last squelched.

Elliot King, Esq , of Portland, responded to a call of his name, and made a few fitting remarks He said there was one act of his life that he was proud of. Although at that time his name was a by word in the community where he resided. When Solon Chase announced his principles he was not slow to endorse them He was present at the first convention of the Greenbackers, which nominated Almon Gage for Governor. There were then only twenty-five men in the convention. Now the great question is attracting the attention of the whole world Mr. King believed, God helping us, that in Sept next we shall make Gen Plaisted the next Gov. of Maine.

The convention then adjourned.

THE DEMOCRATS.

Fourth District Convention.

The Democrats of the Fourth Congressional District met in City Hall at nine o clock yesterday morning to elect two delegates and two alternates to the National Convention at Cincinnati The attendance was small and no enthusiasm manifested

Wm. F Pearson, Esq , Chairman of the District Committee, called the convention to order in due form and nominated Dr Mayo, of Orono, as chairman. The doctor said he had no remarks to offer and the organization was completed by the choice of Chas F. Hill as Secretary

Dr Jordan then said it did not seem necessary to him to ballot for the delegates, and that it afforded him pleasure to present the name of Philo A Strickland, Esq , whose nomination he moved be made by acclamation

At his point one of the delegates suggested that it would be well to organize the convention permanently and ascertain who were delegates by collecting the credentials before proceeding to business

Mr Bass moved that the temporary organization be made permanent and as he thought no Democrat would vote illegally, he also moved that they proceed to business without regard to credentials, which motion was carried.

The motion of Dr. Jordan was then taken up again and Mr Strickland nominated by acclamation.

On motion of Mr Harriman of Oldtown, John B Trafton Esq of Fort Fairfield, was also nominated by acclamation, after which it was voted to empower the delegates to elect their own alternates and the convention adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Convention was called at ten o'clock in the same place, but as the chief fuglers were busy preparing for the amalgamation of the two parties it was nearly eleven o'clock before it was called to order. The attendance compared favorably with former years the delegates occupied seats by counties During the early part of the day the convention was very tame, but, in the afternoon matters began to assume a livelier aspect and before the adjournment [illegible] hands got excited and made so much noise that it was impossible for any one to speak The Chairman struggled vigorously to restore peace and labored [illegible] unable until it seemed as though it must fall to pieces but it was impossible to call the delegations to order. The excitement was caused by Mr Rawson, as usual, in trying to force the local option plank upon the convention, some strongly opposing it, while others were in favor of it When one of the delegates would get up to speak on the question those opposing him would howl like so many wild animals, and such expressions as "Go hire a hall!" "Sit down You are a [illegible]" were heard on all sides This disturbance was kept up until it was finally decided to adjourn without transacting all the business. Below we give a synopsis of the doings of the convention

The delegates were called to order by B. F Torrey, Esq , of Bath, Chairman of the State Committee, who made a few preliminary remarks in which he informed the convention that the doors were open for them to act as they pleased, although it was plain to be seen he had rather hoped they would fuse with the Greenbackers He then nominated Gen S J Andrews of Portland as Chairman and W. A Joy of Ellsworth, S A Patcher, of Biddeford, and Dana Goff, of Auburn, as secretaries

On taking the Chair Gen Anderson was received with applause, and after expressing his thanks he addressed the convention at some length. In his opening remarks he called upon the delegates to remember that this was one of the most critical times the Democracy had ever seen, and then said It is our duty to examine the situation carefully and then act in a manner that will reflect credit on the Democratic party We have met here for the purpose of forming a union with our allies if possible, to defeat the Republican party There has never been a time when the election of a President was so important as the present year The principles of the great Democratic party are at stake Our fathers contested step by step and word for word, for that great constitution. On the one hand we had Hamilton, who believed in a monarchy and on the other, Jefferson the father of Democracy, one believing that the power rested in the government and the other that it existed in the people The same line is before us to-day We are to-day on the very verge of the brink, and must decide whether the great principles advocated by Jefferson are to live or whether we are to surrender the power to a monarchial government One of the Republican candidates for the Presidency has already served two terms and if elected again this year then why not expect a fourth term, and so on until the power of the government is perpetuated in one man?

In our midst another party has sprung up in opposition to Republicanism, and can we not shake hands with them and fight the battle together? The speaker then arraigned the prohibitory law and said if the Republicans did not own the Judiciary the law would be repealed as unconstitutional The speaker's remarks were quite enthusiastically received.

Mr Swett of Portland then moved that the State Committee serve as Committee on Credentials and they retired to perform their duties

On motion of Mr Leavitt, of Portland, the convention took a recess in order that the several delegations might appoint a State Committee, Vice Presidents and a Committee on Resolutions. During this recess the Cumberland delegation got into a dispute over their State Committee man and indulged in considerable harsh language,

The Committee on Credentials then submitted the following report which was accepted

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At two o'clock the convention was called to order again, when it was announced that the first business to be transacted was the election of four delegates at large to the National Convention

On motion of Mr. Andrews of Portland, the following committee was appointed to receive, sort and count votes for the delegates

Androscoggin—W W Lombard
Aroostook—John B Trafton
Cumberland—Benj F Andrews
Franklin—S C Belcher
Hancock—Geo Tolman

Mr Edward Payson of Deering presented the name of Bion Bradbury, of Portland

Mr Parker, of Elliot, the name of Wm A Cromwell, of South Berwick

Mr Burns, of Eastport, was of the opinion that too much time was being taken in presenting the names of candidates, but his objection was not regarded

Col Swett, of Portland, then presented the name of Capt. Chase of that city, as a worthy candidate for these honors

Mr Leavitt of Eastport presented the name of John B Redman

Mr McNichol, of Calais the name of Stephen Jennings, of Bangor

Mr Larrabee, of Bath, the name of Arthur Sewall, of that city

Geo Roberts, of this city, concluded the list by presenting the name of Darius Alden, of Augusta and after a little discussion as to what method should be adopted the convention proceeded to ballot

While the committee were attending to the duty assigned them, Col Swett, of Portland, was called upon and read a speech that had been carefully prepared for the occasion At the close Dr Jordan who had been anxiously waiting for an opportunity to cheer some one, rushed to the front of the stage, and with the customary flourish which long practice has enabled him to perform very gracefully, called for three cheers for the speaker

Hon Bion Bradbury was then called for and stepping to the front of the stage he said I am a practical man and we are here for a practical purpose I wont say that it is fusion for I don't like the term I don't believe that the Democratic party is going to be melted down in the interest of the Greenbackers I don't believe in their financial policy, but we can form an alliance for one year, offensive and defensive. We came here for that purpose We want to form a union that will defeat the Republican party It has been generally conceded that the Democratic party would support the Greenback nominee for Governor, but what next? There are seven Presidential electors to be chosen this fall and we ought to have three or four of them Supposing that the Greenback party should have them all it would do them no good If we enter into this union, think the Greenback party should pledge us three or four of the electors

Mr McNichol, of Calais, followed and said that he thought it was about time to take some steps other than those pointed out by the leaders who have only led them to defeat heretofore In his opinion their only hope rested in this union and he believed that the Greenbackers would grant all that is requested

Mr Burns, of Eastport also spoke in favor of fusing

The committee to receive, sort and count the votes then reported as follows,

Whole number of votes	61[illegible]
Necessary to a choice,	310
Darius Alden had	605
Charles H Chase,	266
John B Redman,	[illegible]50
Bion Bradbury,	25[illegible]
Wm A Cromwell,	127
Arthur Sewall,	[illegible]
Stephen Jennings	2[illegible]
David P Hastings,	7
Geo. P. Sewall,	2
C W Larrabee,	1

and Darius Alden, John B Redman and Arthur Sewall were declared elected

Capt Chase withdrew in favor of Col Swett of Portland, who declined the election, and Mr Cromwell withdrew in favor of Hon Bion Bradbury, who was then elected by acclamation

A serious and rather angry discussion occurred over the election of alternates A portion of the delegates favored Capt Chase, while others who did not relish the odor of the dastardly attempt to steal the State that will ever cling to his garments, bitterly opposed him and favored the nomination of W A Cromwell an honest and upright Democrat After taking several votes Mr Chase received the election. Afterwards Mr Cromwell was chosen one of the alternates and the list completed by the election of Bion Wilson of Augusta, and Geo. W Drisko, of Machias

The Committee on Resolutions then made a majority and minority report, and the fun began in earnest The minority report of James F Rawson, Esq , favoring a local option liquor law, created the wildest excitement Men in all parts of the hall tried to speak either for or against the resolution, but it was impossible to take any action as confusion reigned supreme. Mr Jioner of Bridgeton, endeavored to make an amendment to submit the matter to the people, but that also failed to receive the approval of the convention The noise and excitement continued until it was decided to place the resolutions on the table until later in the afternoon

Mr. Torrey, of the State Committee then announced that he had received a communication from the Greenback State Committee, announcing the nomination of Gen Plaisted for Governor, and that the matter of electors had been referred to the Greenback State Committee and that a conference between the two committees was requested at which it was agreed that justice and equity would be meted out.

Hon Bion Bradbury then moved that the convention ratify the nomination of Gen Plaisted, saying that he had one recommendation, namely, he hated Hamlin and Blaine from the bottom of his soul. The motion was carried.

A committee was then appointed to inform Gen. Plaisted of his nomination and he soon appeared and addressed the convention. For a report of his remarks see the proceedings of the Greenback Convention, the only difference being that for good reasons he omitted all reference to the financial question in the last speech.

Mr McNichol then moved that the choice of Presidential electors be referred to the State Committee who are to act in concurrence with the Greenback State Committee, and the convention adjourned sine die without passing any resolutions whatever.

Mr. Rawson says he feels encouraged at the fact that his resolution, for the first time during the past ten years, was not voted down, and thinks he may succeed yet if he lives long enough.

ROBBING THE EXPRESS COMPANY. Mr. Sly, Superintendent of the New York division of the American Express Company and another gentleman passed through this city yesterday morning on their way to St. John to look after an agent, who had taken the back route, by way of Montreal to that place, with $[illegible]3,000 of the Company's money. An officer followed only a few hours behind him and caused his arrest. A small portion of the money was found in his possession. Being an agent of the Company he was entrusted with the money, but instead of delivering it to the owner started for St. John. It is reported that he says he can and will refund all the money provided he can be insured against prosecution.

The E. & N. A Railway Land Grant Bondholders, will hold a meeting this afternoon at 2½ o'clock

We are indebted to Mrs A W Benson for some very handsome tulips, of which she has a choice variety.

At the Fifth District Convention yesterday A. McNichol of Calais, and J Fred Merrill, of Rockland, were elected delegates to the Democratic National Convention George Tolman, of Deer Isle, and Frank W Kelley, of Winterport alternates.

THE FIRE The alarm of fire at a few minutes before two o'clock this morning was occasioned by the burning of some buildings up on the Brewer shore road Owing to the lateness of the hour and the distance of the fire we were unable to ascertain any particulars

NARROW ESCAPE

A Young Boy Falls from one of the Wharves into the Stream and Narrowly Escapes Drowning

A young boy named Fred Wooster fell from one of the wharves on Broad st last evening and but for the prompt action of Messrs Amos Colson and Barney Kelley he would have drowned When he rose to the surface of the water he was fortunate enough to grasp the piling of the wharf and then he used his lungs very lustily His cries reached the ears of Messrs Colson and Kelley, on Exchange street and the former who is watchman at the E & N A depot, got a lantern and then they started to the rescue in a boat It was dark on the water but being directed by his shouts, they plied the oars very vigorously and reached the boy in season to save his life He was taken to the home of Mr Kelley who supplied him with a dry suit

Young Wooster says he is sixteen years old and that he came from L[illegible] to get a chance to ship Last evening he was out listening to the band when some boys began to hector him, and thinking to get away from them he went down on the wharf, when he fell into the water

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Dr Duryea's Address at the Hammond Street Church

As might be expected the address of Rev J T Duryea, D D , before the Seminary Rhetorical Society, was listened to by a large audience And although the speaker addressed the students exclusively, all were well paid for their attendance The Doctor confined himself to a recital of some of his own experiences in his endeavor to perfect himself as a preacher and the address was so full of good things that it would be impossible to give an outline of what was said

But however the students were thoroughly convinced that if they study the workings of their own mind together with the Bible and Biblical theology they will at last be so filled with truth that they will find no difficulty in preaching two or twenty sermons a week, as the occasion demand

The following is the order of exercises for to day

Examinations at the chapel
9 A M Middle Class in Church History by Professor Paine
10 30 A M Middle Class in Theology by Professor Hamlin
1 P M Alumni Dinner
7 30 P M Graduating Exercises of the Senior Class at the Hammond street church
